Jerel T. Golub

President and CEO

Enc.

Jerel T. Golub

Mr. Jerel (“Jerry”) Golub is currently President and CEO of Clark Trading Corporation, a commercial real estate holding company with a portfolio of eight locations in upstate New York. In this capacity, he is responsible for all operating and administrative functions. Under his leadership, Clark Trading has completely restructured its operating structure, as well as redeveloped locations that were previously vacant supermarkets.

Mr. Golub is also currently Co-Chair of the Board of Northeast Grocery, Inc, the parent company of Price Chopper Supermarkets/Market 32 and Tops Markets. Prior to his current position, he was Vice Chair at Price Chopper/Market 32, where he also served as CEO from 2012-2016 and President from 2009-2015.

Mr. Golub is a focused and strategic thought leader with nearly three decades of experience in senior-level leadership positions in that multi-billion-dollar, privately held, family-led, supermarket chain. He offers the comprehensive, multi-functional business acumen required to deliver transformational solutions. In that spirit, he is continually focused on providing the leadership that will empower an organization to achieve its goals by streamlining operations, rebranding, re-imagining the possible, and delivering innovative, customer-based business strategies to reposition for growth in sales and profitability.

Mr. Golub is a seasoned Board member, having served on numerous for-profit and not-for-profit Boards. He was a member of the Price Chopper Board of Directors for 12 years until its merger with Tops Markets, actively participating on the Audit, Trust, Governance, and Compensation Committees, as well as co-chair of a Special Finance Committee established to pursue strategic alternatives for the company. Upon merging with Tops Markets, Mr. Golub was named Co-Chair of the Board of the newly combined company. As a member of the Board of Directors of Topco, the largest for-profit buying cooperative for groceries in the U.S., he served on the Audit and Governance Committees, the latter of which oversaw major changes to the company’s legal and governance structure. He is currently a member of the Board of Directors of the Albany Symphony Orchestra, a Board on which he has served for over twenty years, including Board Chair from 2017-23. He is also a member of the Board of FMI—the Food Industry Association, where he has served as Chair of the Communications Committee and the Board of the Business Council of New York State, as well as the Advisory Board of Butternut Mountain Farms, a manufacturer of maple syrup and related products in Vermont.

During his 35-year career with Price Chopper Supermarkets/Golub Corporation, he was promoted numerous times into positions of increasing responsibility, eventually serving as President and CEO of the company. In that capacity, he demonstrated formidable leadership skills by shepherding the 80-plus year-old organization through significant change, including the transition to the next generation of family and non-family management. In addition, he utilized his strong operational skills to oversee the re-alignment of resources to enable the company to begin its rebranding to the Market32 platform, eliminate millions of dollars in costs, and bolster the company’s brand perception by applying key Market32 brand components across its existing Price Chopper banner.

Mr. Golub is an innovative marketer who understands the power of a compelling brand vision. Under his leadership, the company developed a brand-based mindset that resulted in the rebranding of its stores to Market32, a major evolution of the modern supermarket that has earned the loyalty of Millennials while at the same time retaining its core baby boomer segment. In addition, he oversaw the significant expansion of the company’s loyalty card program, which leverages point of sale information to develop enhanced sales-generating programs.
